PAY OF A MORTGAGE.

OPINION IN COURT OF APPEALS YESTERDAY FAVORS G. E. FISHER

CASE INVOLVING A WIDOW'S DOWER.

Unique Suit for a Fertilizer Bill Against a Trustee-The Termination of the Trust Puts It in a Pecu-

Only three cases were decided in the Supreme Court of Appeals yesterday. Probably the most important of these was that of Fisher against White and others, from the Circuit Court of the city of Richmond. This was an appeal from a decree rendered in a suit brought to foreclose a mortgage. The mortgagers sold the land in question to Netherwood and Barry, who assumed payment of the mortgage. They took in H. F. Smith as partner, and went into the granite-quarrying business in 1889. Two years later Smith instituted suit to settle up the business; commissioners were appointed to make a sale of the real and personal we had to take. estate of the firm. Prior to this time 10 pairs of Lace Curtains that were $2.75, $3, and $3.50 a pair, for $1.25.
17 pairs of Lace Curtains that were $1, $1.19, $1.25 a pair, for 50c. the partnership had contracted to sell a portion of the mortgaged land to John Robertson, who was to pay $1,800 14 pairs of Lace Curtains that were $4 and $4.75 a pair, for $2.
11 pairs of Lace Curtains that were $5 in cash for it, and assume the payment of the mortgage. This sale was apand the commissioners executed and $5.75, for $3 a pair.

1 pair Satin Damask Curtains that were
$10 a pair, for $4. deed to Robertson for the land sold im. Robertson claimed that in making this purchase he was acting as the agent of George E. Fisher, the appellant, 19 a pair, for $4.

1 pair Pure Damask Curtains, were $8 a pair, for $3.

5 pairs Chemile Curtains that were $3.98, $4.25, and $4.26 a pair, for $2.25.

14 pairs Chemille Curtains slightly handled, were $8, $10, and $12 a pair, for $2. The whole effect of the decision is a remaind the case to the lower court, to establish the liability Fisher It appears that Fisher repudiated the part of the contract, whereby he was to assume payment of the old Remnants of Dotted Muslins, 40 inches wide, for 9c. a yard.

SHOULD ASK FOR THAT RELIEF. Judge Buchana, in his opinion, rendered yesterday, says: "In order to obtain such relief (as was prayed for) it would seem, certainly it would be better practice, that the complainant should pray for it in his bill. But even under the library rules of equity plead. under the liberal rules of equity plead-ings, if the allegations and prayer of the bill were sufficient to authorize the court to decree that Fisher had be-Remnants of Tapestry Carpets, from 3 to 19 yards, 25c. a yard, from 65c. MAYO WANTED A LICENSE. The Negro Already Had a Wife, But Didn't Know It.

Magistrates Vincent and Thomas had hefore them yesterday what developed into a rather interesting case. Paul Mayo, an ignorant negro, was the complainant against another negro named Morris, whom he charged with having insulted Emma Woodson. In the hearing of the case it transpired that Mayo was not himself guiltless so far as the Woodson wo-man was concerned, and the two were arrested on a serious charge. Mayo, in or-der to have the warrant against him withdrawn, went to Clerk Samuel P. Waddill and applied for a license to marry the Woodson woman. It developed that he had been married once before, and that he had been deserted by his wife while serving a term in jail, and that his wife had married again.

The wife, he said, had told him that she had secured a divorce, and his impression seemed to be that the preacher who married her to him had likewise divorced them. Mr. Waddill, of course, refused to grant the license, and explained to Mayo that the courts alone had power to divorce him; whereupon the negro left the office, announcing his intention of recov-ering his former wife. He said that he did not intend to allow her to be married to another man if he could not wed another

Never Had a More Pleasant Visit. Hon, J. H. Walker, who spoke before the business-men of Richmond Monday night on the currency question, is warm, personal friend of Dr. A. E. Dick Years ago, when the Doctor was inson. Years ago, when the Doctor canvassing in the North for Richmond canvassing in the North for Richmond College, he visited Worcester, Mass., Mr. Walker's home, quite frequently. Walker's home, quite frequently. The Doctor was on several of these visits the guest of the Congressman, who not only made the liberal gift to Richmond College mentioned in Wednesday's Dispatch, but also used his great influence to secure other gifts from his community for the same institution. The result was very gratifying, and Worcester's investment in Richmond College was quite handsome. Dr. Dickinson was not well during Mr. Walker's visit, and hence did not see his friend. Since the Congressman's return to Washington he has sent to Dr. Dickinson a private note, from which the following is taken: "I fully reciprocate the kindly feeling expressed to me by yourself and your fellow-citizens of Rich-mond. I never enjoyed a visit and meet-ing gentlemen to address them so much ing gentiemen to address them so much in my life. In fact, my admiration for Richmond and its citizens was increased very much by my visit, which certainly is a high compliment, considering my feel-ings toward them before."

Claimed Three Old Portraits. While in the Capitol building Wednesday morning, Judge and Mrs. F. S. Taylor, of Gloucester county, claimed three pletures, which hung upon the walls of the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth. The pictures were those of Augustine Warner, once a Speaker of the House; Warner Lewis, and General Thomas Nelson. The two first-named portraits were loaned to the State Library n 1882, and the other some time later. Mrs. Taylor is an artist of considerable ability, and the picture of Warner Lewis was done by her. The picture of General Nelson was a copy of the original portrait. The portrait of Augustine Warner Buchanan says: "It will then be the duty of the plaintiff, if he seeks to hold the appellant liable personally, to establish that liability, and if the defendants, or either of them, desire to establish such liability, they will have the right to file such proper pleadings as they may be advised, and litigate that question."

ability, and the picture of Warner Lewis was done by her. The picture of General Nelson was a copy of the original portrait. The portrait of Augustine Warner was said to have been painted in 16%. The pictures were never framed. Judge and Mrs. Taylor have old-fashtonestion." they will put the portraits.

An exciting runaway occurred on Broad street shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday evening. A horse attached to one of the Farmington dairy-wagons, left standing near Fourth and Broad streets, took fright and dashed away. Near Second street the wagon came in contact with one of the iron poles belonging to the Traction Company, and the horse was brought to a standstill. The wagon was considerably damaged, but no other damage was done.
